

L.G.Holdings

Engineering and Coating Specialists

L G Holdings is a service provider capable of the interpretation of customer requirements for companies wishing to have components laser cut, formed and/or assembled supported by the pre-cleaning and powder coating of those engineered components. LGHoldings is managed by our headquarters on Rotterdam Road Hull, supported by Operational facilities at Rotterdam Road, West Carr Lane and Stockholm Road Hull

In line with the Internal and External issues stated in our Quality Manual, it is our aim to give confidence to all our interested parties that our Management System fulfils the specified requirements of ISO9001:2015 and is applicable to all companies & sites working under the LGHoldings brand.

Our interested parties and their needs/expectations have been considered as

- Our Customer
- Our Board of Directors
- Our staff
- Our suppliers and subcontractors

By determining the needs and expectations of Interest Parties we have been able to establish our measurable business objectives.
